Library News

By Lynda Mullins
Winter weather finally folind us last week and it looks like it's here to stay for a while. As a result of the weather and time off from work and school, we had a very busy week at the library. Lots of people came in to use the computers and check out books to read.
We am also because the stay of the computers

books to read.

We are also butly working toward automation! have been labeling our children's books and Geraldine has been working on the adult fiction section. I don't know how she finds time to do this with all the other work—and responsibilities that she has as part of her job. We are very lucky to have a director that it so dedicated to un tilburg and in swelling times and the solid provided that the same than the same times and the same times are same times and the same times and the same times are same times are same times and the same times are same times are same times and the same times are same times are same times and the same times are same times and the same times are same times are same times and the same times are same times are same times and the same times are same tim our library and to seeing it grow and our library and to seeing it grow and move forward. Story Time every Tuesday at 1:00. Our group varies from week to week both in number and age. Sometimes it's hard to plan activities for such adiverse age group so we are very flexible. Very small output children or play with oys. All children are welcome and encouraged to attend.

We have had a collection of young adult books in the front of the library with the adult books for some time now. This makes it easy for young people to come in and find a book geared to their tastes quickly and easily. We are constantly adding to our young adult collection. Here are just a few of the newest books available now.

Angels On The Park

Angels On The Roof by Martha

Shelby feels like the Dysfunctional Family Poster Child. She's fourteen and she has never known her father. Her mother refuses to talk about him, Her mother refuses to talk about him, and is constantly packing them up and moving. Shelby's household has never been normal. Soon she finds herself heading for Red Valley, an isolated town in the Texas panhandle that may hold the keys to her past.

Shelby's determined to uncover her mother's secrets. But in Red Valley she discovers that the truth can be dangerous, and that some questions are better left unanswered. Dawson's Creek: Don't Scream

by C.J. Anders.

Has Dawson's dream finally come true? A low budget teen horror film is the? A low outget teen norror tilin is shooting in Capeside and Dawson desperately wants to work on the set. This could be the professional break he's been looking for and he's really excited. That is, until Jon lands the

Meanwhile, Joey loves attention she's getting while spending time with the movies to-die-for male lead. The Dark Side of Nowhere by Neal

For Jason Miller, Billington is the definition of duli. It's like he and his definition of dull. It's like he and his friends are trapped inside a Norman Rockwell painting. But a mysterious death changes the perception. The town has been keeping a secret. A dark secret that shatters his worldand changes everything Jason thought he knew about himself. ... and about who he is. Don't miss out on this science fiction thriller.

Classified Deadline is Noon Tuesday

Male Chow/Shepherd Mix Approx. 3-4 months old. Needs Home. Very good with kids. Very Smart 256-5183

Male Long Haired White Cat, Very affectionate Needs loving home. 256-1098.

Just Arrived

New Shipment of Name Brand Curtains, Drapes, Blinds & Shades

Curtains & Drapes 75% off Catalog Prices Blinds & Shades Any Size $3 ea.

B&M Liquidators

Bedskirts $7.99

Refer Forti Welcomes All. A Plan, 7 Plan and Commercia Plaet Buyers! Come see us today!

1-800-882-37

606-986-7283

