

Lordy Be, Lordy Be,
"We just can't say how old she will be!"
Happy Birthday Cheryl, May 2nd Love - Sandy, Shane, Wirt

Stoney and Sheila McGuire of Brookhead would like to announce the birth of their son, Jacob Seth McGuire was born April 14, 2000 at Lake Cumberland Regional Hospital. He weighed 8 lbs. 3 3/4 ozs. and was 21" long. Jacob has a half sister, Taylor McGuire and a half brother, Sebastian McGuire.
Maternal grandparents are J.M. and Rosa Prewitt of Mt. Vernon.
Paternal grandparents are Minta Bullock of Mt. Vernon and the late Raymond McGuire.

I know your birthday is sometime in May.
On that day you wouldn't say, but be that as it may,
I know it could be just any day.
So I hope your day is good, you begged not to do this, but you knew I would.
- Happy Birthday
Rebecca Newcomb

Does anybody recognize this face?
And no it's not off a milk carton.
How 'bout you Shirlene do you know him?
Here are some hints:

Face of an angel,
Dashing blue eyes.
So young and serene.
So full of life.
Then you were seen
and sat on mama's knee.
Now you're 47,
claimed to be 19.
Where did all the time go, between then and now.
Life was sometimes hard and like a hill side hard to plow.
Where did time go between now and then,
No doubt your mother prayed again and again.
Asking God to take care of her son.
Now she prays to meet you again, when this life is done.
Happy Birthday Squirrel

We are still on hold with the automation project. This was started last September and we had the bar codes on the books by the middle of March.
Now we just wait! The company has promised to have the software in place sometime in May. When you are waiting for something to happen though the waiting seems long. This was the one thing I wanted to see in place before I retire and maybe I will get to at least scan one book before I leave. The deadline for acceptance of resumes has come and gone. The board of trustees have reviewed the resumes and applicants will be getting a call soon to come in for interviews. I'm getting anxious to learn who will be taking my place as library director. I'm sure we have some good qualified people wanting this position and one of them will do a marvelous job as the new director.
During this month, May, we will be honoring, Pam Chaliff as the Employee-of-the-month. Pam was first on the board of trustees and was then hired as the bookmobile librarian in October of 1990. Pam is certified by KDLA guidelines and is a very qualified person for her position. Pam never meets a stranger and is always glad to assist patrons with their needs. She tries to keep a good selection of reading material at all times for adults and children. She has several shut-ins on her routes and she has learned their likes and dislikes.

This enables her to bring the type of reading material they will enjoy. She has the best-sellers as well as the library. When you see Pam out and about be sure and tell her how much she is appreciated and let her know that she is doing a good job. We'll like to have a little praise now and then. We like to know if we are doing a good job and it even makes us work harder at whatever we are doing.

We hope you will come in and see Carol's new display for Mother's Day. We like to give tribute to all mothers during this special time.
New arrivals for our book shelves... 1. After The Fire by Belva Plain... What happens when the picture-perfect marriage disintegrates? In her inspiring evocation of a family in crisis, Belva Plain goes to the heart of a marriage between a naive young artist and her handsome physician husband. At first everything is idyllic. Then one terrible night she commits an act she will regret for the rest of her life. And that gives her husband the ultimate weapon: blackmail.
The price of his silence is uncontested custody of their two children.

viper-tongued Ophelia.
Bad circumstances, however, can sometimes have distinctly pleasurable advantages, especially since this will bring him in contact with the lovely Sabrina. But duty and station forbid their desired union. Can true love miraculously find a way?
3. Before I Say Good-Bye by Mary Higgins Clark... When Adam Caulliff's new cabin cruiser, Carnelia II, blows up in New York harbor with him and several close business associates aboard, his wife, Nell MacDer-mot, is not only distraught at the loss but wracked with guilt because she and Adam had just had a serious quarrel and she had told him not to come home.

Nell, like her Aunt Gert, possesses psychic gifts, which her grandfather coffingly dismisses as "flights of fantasy."
After Adam's death, however, Gert begs Nell to see a medium, Bonnie Wilson, who has contacted her, claiming she is in touch with Adam. Nell agrees, hoping that she will be able to reach him through the medium and part from him in peace.
As the investigation into the boat's explosion proceeds, Nell is shocked by the official confirmation that it was not an accident but the result of fool play. Was Adam the target of the explosion or one of the others on the boat?

Nell, with help through the medium, carries out instructions from Adam to find the killer or will she be the next victim before the killer is found?
