Library

Things are looking up at the li-brary. At least two of our situations are no longer on hold. As Carol told you last week, Lynda has her new baby girl and she has been named Hannah Margaret. We're all thrilled for the new addition to her family and are waiting for her to bring little Hannah in for us to see. We're hoping Lynda will be able to resume her duties in time for the Summer Reading Program.

Also, the position of Library Di-rector has been filled. The Board of Trustees has chosen Kristiana Burk of London as the new director. She will be moving to Rockcastle County soon. I think they have chosen well and I feel confident she will do an excellent job in this position. She will begin her duties on June 12, working with me for three weeks. I do not have a lot of details about her previnave a total detains about net previ-nave at total detains about net previ-mation about her personal life, her educational background, etc. We are still waiting on the automation. The company that was chosen to do the conversion had a problem with the Pinnacle One project so they have just completely done away with this program and have contracted for another one. This means it will proba-bly be the middle of July before it is in operation. I had hoped to see this finalized before I retured since I had done a lot of work to get the project in place but I will probably miss it by a couple of weeks. But I will get to use it when I come in to check out books ous work but she will be introducing and other materials.

I will probably be doing more articles but I just want to go on now and send my thanks out to everyone that has been so nice to me. I have made a host of friends over the 28 years I have been employed at the library. First on the bookmobile and library. First on the bookmobile and then since I have been in the library as director. I will certainly miss having contact with everyone but it's not too late to send me a note or come in and visit with me before I leave. This has been my means of communicating with a lot of people that cannot make it into the library. I hope I have given the people reading my articles an incentive to visita library somewhere if it's not possible to visit with us at

if it's not possible to visit with us at our library.

I have more news that is not so good. Our library aide, Carolyn lones has also given her intent to resign from the library effective July 1st. Carolyn has been a great asset to the library. She has other avenues asset to the library. She has other avenues asset to the library. She has other avenues problems that but we have worked well with Carolyn and she will be missed a lot.

We are saluting Carolyn as the "Employee of the Month" for June. Even though our staff is not recognized every month, please let them know how much they are appreciated for their dedication to library work. I thinks sometimes we take people and think sometimes we take people and their jobs for granted. You may just see a staff person setting behind the checkout desk and think what an easy ob they have. But this is not the case They are responsible for a number of different thisks and they do a lot behind the scenes that patrons are not

This is also true of the director's This is also true of the director's position. The work in this office has doubled since I became director. A lot of the extra work is due to new technology services. But this is very worthwhile and by the number of people using them, we know this is true. Now it seems we have always had computers. It's hard to remember how we got along without them since most of the book work is done on the computer. I can trutfully say I have never found a time that I couldn't find something that needed doing.

couldn't find soleming that recover doing. I don't think there has ever been a problem between myself and the staff during our period of working together that has not been solved in a friendly manner. For this I am thankful. And to all the staff I say "Thank You" for being such wonderful people to work with.

Some new fiction books now ready for checkout are...Demolition Angel by Robert Crais...Carol Starkey is struggling to pick up the pieces of her former life as L.A.'s finest bomb squad technician. Three years have passed since the event that haunts her a detonation that killind her partner, David "Sugar" Boudreax. Fragments from the same explosion has scarred her and left her outside looking in at the life she left behind. When a seemingly innocous bomb call turns into a devastating murder scene, Carol catches the case and embarks on an investigation of a series of explosions that are designed expressly to kill bomb technicians. Carol is in for the most intensified fight of the most intensified fight of the life.
