All Our Neighbors

Rabbits nestle in a bed of native grasses. Butterflies flutter among a patch of wildflowers. And a mother raccoon gathers food for her babies.

A nature preserve? Not really. It's a transmission corridor owned and maintained by Kentucky's Touchstone Energy Cooperatives. The pathway that brings power to your home is also home to many rare plants and animals.

A two-year study of our transmission corridors throughout the Daniel Boone National Forest found many rare plants growing beneath our power lines. Several of the species were thought to be near extinction. As a result, our biologists continually monitor the pathways to help protect these plants and the wildlife that live among them.

But that's only part of our commitment to the environment. Each year, our cooperatives bring nature into hundreds of classrooms throughout Kentucky. Students learn about the plants and animals of our great commonwealth. And hopefully, they will grow up to be strong stewards of our natural resources.

Kentucky's Touchstone Energy Cooperatives are proud to be nationally recognized leaders in environmental education and preservation. Because that means we're doing our best for our communities and our neighbors - all of our neighbors.
