"Heating Assistance"

Crisis payments, provided to income-eligible households that are in imminent danger of losing heat, will continue until LIHEAP funds run out. Households with incomes up to 110 percent of the federal poverty level may qualify under a separate federal program for weatherization assistance aimed at making homes warmer, safer and more healthful. Further information and assistance in applying for LIHEAP may be obtained by contacting a local Community Action agency or calling the Kentucky Association for Community Action at 1-800-456-3452. Community Action Agencies can also issue certificates of financial need that give low-income households that have received a payment notice extra time to work out a discount plan with their natural gas or electric utilities. A certificate of need can also help a household get reconnected to gas or electric power if disconnection for non-payment has already occurred.

For more information, call Michael Jennings at (502)564-6180.
