"Habitat for Life" is the theme of 2001 Soil & Water Stewardship Week

Increased community awareness of the need to care for natural resources that make up the habitat that sustains us all, is the goal of local organizers of the 2001 Soil & Water Stewardship Week, set for April 29 to May 6. The focus of this year's national observance is on the personal responsibility each citizen has to be a good steward of the land, water, wildlife and other natural resources that enhance our quality of life.

April 29th - May 6th

Soil & Water Stewardship Week

The concept of habitat, which most of us think of in terms of wildlife, has been expanded to include human and other living things around us that make up the place where we live. The basic elements of habitat are food, water and shelter.

"As living creatures with an appetite for control over our domain, humankind has a special responsibility to sustain a healthy balance of all living elements that make up our surroundings," said Roy G. Brown, chairperson of the Rockcastle County Conservation District, local sponsor of this year's Soil and Water Stewardship Week. "Our local conservation district would like to help take the leadership to bring all interested groups and individuals together to discuss how to improve the health and well being of our neighborhood habitats," he added.

It is common to think about people losing their homes and the quality of their living environments as being something that happens to someone else, or in some other place. That may not always be the case. As we see sprawling growth take valuable farmland, read about a town's drinking water being polluted by a chemical spill, or watch helplessly as a flood wipes out farms and towns, we are witnessing a steady loss of the habitat for life that is needed by all people and other living things.

To learn more about how you can help protect your habitat, contact the Rockcastle County Conservation District during business hours at Rt. 1 Box 374A, Hwy. 150, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456.
