Hammond to play basketball for Transy

Eight basketball players, including three from Lexington, have decided to continue their playing careers at Transylvania this fall, women's head coach Mark Turner said Wednesday.

The eight incoming freshmen include guard Katie Boaz (Dunbar High School), guard Annie Rardin (Sayre) and Tates Creek forward Shericka Smith.

Other new players for 2001-02 include forward Kayla Brown of Smithland (Livingston Central) and her teammate, guard Amanda Hall of Ledbetter. Swing player Rachelle Hammond of Mt. Vernon will be a Pioneer as will guard/forward Kathleen Holms of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Turner loses just one senior, guard Teresa Hensley, off of last year's 17-9 team. Four starters return, including leading scorer Tari Young of Lexington, who will be a junior.

"I think this is a strong recruiting class," said Turner, who has a 240-143 career record at Transy in 14 seasons. "They are outstanding both in the classroom and on the basketball floor. They will help us, no question."

The Pioneers will compete in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference for the first time beginning next season as Transy moves from the NAIA to the NCAA Division III. The HCAC includes teams from Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

Tony Stewart held off Robby and Jeff Gordon to win Sunday's Dodge/Save Mart 350 at Sears Point Raceway. Stewart got the lead, and eventually his first career Winston Cup road-racing victory, with a quick move past Robby Gordon on Lap 102 as Gordon battled to keep Kevin Harvick's car a lap down.

It was his first career victory in five career road course races and his second victory in 2001 and 11th career victory in 84 career races. This was Stewart's first top-five finish on a road course. However, in his five career road course races Stewart has scored 10 top-10 finishes. Stewart led the final 11 laps of the 112 laps race. He did not lead the most laps. Jeff Gordon led 55 of the 112 laps race. It was the sixth time in 2001 that he has led the most laps in a race. In the last four races Jeff Gordon has led 665 of the 912 laps raced (73 percent).

Robby Gordon (second) scored his career-best NASCAR Winston Cup finish.

Jeff Gordon (third) extended his point lead by 90 points over second place Dale Jarrett. Gordon has finished first, second or third in six of the last seven races this season. While he ended a three-race win streak at Sears Point, Gordon has finished third or better in six of his last seven races at the California road course.

Ricky Rudd (fourth) scored his ninth top-10 finish in 13 races at Sears Point Raceway. Rudd remained third in the NASCAR Winston Cup point standings, just 15 points behind second-place Dale Jarrett.

Rusty Wallace (fifth) scored his ninth top-10 finish in 13 races at Sears Point Raceway. It was his fourth top-10 finish in 2001. Some of the "hired guns" that replaced several drivers for the road race fared well at Sears Point. No. 77 Robby Gordon (2nd), No. 77 Boris Said (11th), No. 33-Scott Pruett (12th), No. 01-Dorsey Schroeder (25th), No. 87-Ron Fellows (38th) and No. 90-Mark Simo (42nd).

This was the second win for Pontiac in 2001, both by Stewart. Ford and Chevrolet have each won seven races and Dodge remains winless. Chevrolet leads the manufacturers' point race 113-111 over Ford. Pontiac has 70 points while Dodge has 58.
