rating this season. We're as good as Homer Simpson. On the surface, I guess that sounds kind of bad. The fact of the matter is it is a real compliment.

"That might be the thing most impressive about FOX - they have treated us as well as anything else on their schedule. They believe in us and that shows in everything they are doing. It's kind of cool to turn on a show at night (on FOX) and see racing being advertised. They promote us not just during the races but all week long."

"The promotion FOX has put behind us is the thing that has impressed me the most. They have been working hard not just to make sure as many people as they can get are watching the thing."

"I don't know anything about (television) production but I know what I see on my television. They have done a great job, not just during the race, but also in the pre-race shows and the stuff on FOX Sports Net. They know their stuff and that's obvious. I like the way they look at things from a crew chief's perspective and from a driver's perspective."

"(FOX anchor) Mike Joy has always been a favorite of mine and he's done a great job. And Chris (Myers) has done pretty well too. The Hollywood Hotel has become part of our sport. The guys in the pits know their stuff. The pre-race show really looks great and that professionalism is great for our sport."

"They have been really creative but I think we expected that from FOX all along. Hey, these are the guys who gave us The Simpsons and The World's Greatest Police Chases, not The Brady Bunch. They take chances and they win because they take chances. Reminds me a lot of NASCAR racing."

Richmond Raceway

Ninety-four race cars visited Richmond Raceway's "The Action Track" Saturday night and put on a show that the fans will surely talk about for a while. That included a car ending on its top, no less than four leaders going pit-side with mechanical trouble in last race action and two feature leaders leaving the track. Joe Todd with a flat in the bomber class and Bobby Carrier, Jr. in the late model division after he totaled his Harlow Racing Mascherini, when Steve Perkins went in for a pit stop in front of him leaving him unable to see.

Even though the early leader was in the pits there was still plenty of action in the late model feature. Delain Browning was the man that got to the checkered flag first to score his first win of the year at Richmond. Scott Douglas, Dennis Robinson, Marty Seep and Jimmy Crabtree battled for the crown as well as they all battled for the entire race.

The Open Wheel Modifieds had several new drivers to compete in the fastest growing class at "The Action Track." There was a first time winner for the season as well when David Hughes of Brooksville took the checkered flag holding off Jimmy Crabtree. Jimmy Robinson put together a late charge to finish third. Tim Littell followed him with Gary Ward fifth.

Terry Linnville once again was the winner in the bomber division, after chasing Joe Todd early in the race.

He moved to lead when Todd left, with a flat. Joey Frank finished second, Bill Friend drove an excellent race to finish third, following him was Ray Cox and Doug Webb.

The Roadhog feature got started (or rather didn't) when the front of the field didn't start and the rear did, which resulted was a massive pile up under the flag stand with almost every car in the race involved. John Doug Leger and Paul Senters caught 50 lbs. of fish at J&J Paylake on June 22nd.
