Students attend Robinson Scholars Day at UK

High school students representing thirteen counties and participating in the University of Kentucky's Robinson Scholars Program recently participated in a day of workshops and other activities on the campus of Southeast Community College in Cumberland.

Students participating in a variety of workshops focusing on a variety of topics, including leadership skills, public speaking, memorization skills, time management, study skills and speed reading. That evening, the students were treated to a performance of the University of Kentucky men's chorus, the Acoustiks.

date to participate in the program. The regional coordinator for the program is Paula Whitaker.

Jordan Hall and Elijah Lunsford also participated in the University of Kentucky's Robinson Scholars Program recently visited the Lexington campus where they attended a University of Kentucky football game and were taken on a campus tour.

By Cheryl Stone

I am very proud to announce my daughter, Dusty Marie Mullins, has completed her course of study at Somerset Community College and received her Associate degree in English.

Dusty is a 1998 graduate of RCHS. She has had articles published in the auctioneer magazine and her portfolio has been used as study guides to other students. Dusty has been employed at Ford Brothers Realty since high school. We sincerely appreciate Danny and Sammy Ford for helping Dusty with her education by working her around her college schedule. A special thanks to Bobby and Kim Owens for their financial and moral support for her education.

Dusty is the granddaughter of John Hanly Mullins and the late Reesie Mullins of Orlando and the granddaughter of the late Wade and Betty Wright of Liberty, Indiana. Dusty lives with her mom Cheryl Stone, step dad Shelby Stone, sister Dawn and brother Jesse. Dusty plans to get her teaching degree at ECU next fall. Dusty is a member of Community Baptist Church of Somerset and a Sunday School teacher also.

Local students participate in Community Artist in Residence Program at RCHS

The Community Artist in Residence or CAR is a program that allows an artist to come into a community or school and work with young adults on art projects. The focus is on theater activities and creative writing and other forms of art to show participants how to express themselves in a positive manner. This opportunity is open for students participating in Rockcastle County High School's Job Quest and 21st Century Community Learning Center Program.

The artist working with Rockcastle County youth is Hasan Davis, a lawyer, motivational speaker, poet, and actor from Berea. Hasan grew up with dyslexia and attention deficit disorder at a time when teachers were not trained to distinguish between bad children and chil-
