

Image Entry sends packages to their employee's deployed family members

The employees of Image Entry have over 60 members of their families serving in the military at this time. "With our servicemen and women fighting for the cause of freedom far away from their homes, Image Entry employees wanted to express their deep gratitude in recognition of the sacrifices being made by our men and women in the military."

"We are proud of the fact that Image Entry is a company who not only supports America and our troops, but also cares about our employees and the well being of their families," stated Bill Deaton, President & CEO. Image Entry used the local National Guard to identify what items were needed and how to send them to the soldiers.

Each of Image Entry's eleven locations was assigned an item to collect. Then all of the items were combined in packages and sent to the deployed family members of our employees.

The employees collected enough items to prepare over 70 boxes. Each box contained chewing gum, chap stick, cough drops, baby wipes, sunscreen, shampoo, toothpaste, toothbrush, soap, deodorant, socks, bug spray, disposable cameras, Bibles, phone cards and other miscellaneous items.

Human Resources Manager, Tammy Schooley stated, "I feel that the soldiers will most enjoy the letters and cards that the students of Cornerstone Christian School prepared to be included in the packages. The children, in their simplistic way, were able to express their feelings of gratitude to the soldiers. Some of the children wrote scriptures on their cards, drew pictures, and wrote messages of thanks."

It is very difficult for the families of deployed soldiers. Ann Hubbard, an employee at Image Entry's Manchester location has her son, Sgt. Kevin Hubbard, deployed with the 101st Airborne division. Ann says "It really helps to know that you are not in this alone and that other people are supporting you and praying for your child all across the nation. It also helps to know that my company is supporting me. It's so easy to think that you are in a vacuum and that this is only happening to you, and it really helps to know that others are there for you. It's helping me to get through this."

Image Entry is headquartered in London, Kentucky and has locations in Ansville, Booneville, Blyden, Manchester, Mount Vernon, Monticello, Jenkins in Kentucky and Georgiana, Alabama and Brinkley Arkansas. Image Entry is a data conversion services company specializing in document scanning, payment processing, data entry, and mail room services.

Jennifer Strunk and Sheila Williams, employees of Image Entry, prepare the packages to send to the deployed military soldiers.

A viewing of the contents of the boxes that Image Entry's employees collected and the company mailed to deployed employees family members. Jeremy Deaton, an employee of Order Resource, (a sister company of Image Entry) displays the contents and shows the size of the box.
