

Quail Homemakers meet

There was not a July meeting scheduled for the Quail Homemakers Club but they met in June at the home of Geraldine Robbins.

There were twelve members present and two guests, Peggy Robbins and Bethany Robbins. A delicious meal was served with help from several of the club members. A craft was taught by Noelle Thompson. We made angel kitchen helpers from one dish towel, one dish cloth and a pot holder.

The club members and their families will be meeting Monday night, August 18th at the Quail Community Park for their annual picnic. Each member is to bring two dishes, a vegetable, salad or dessert. The meat and drinks are furnished.

We hope to see all the members out for this picnic. Visitors are also welcome to enjoy the evening.

Words of Hope

Recently I listened to a conversation on the radio from a woman who had spent most of her life trying to find someone who would share her love. From the time of her childhood until late in her young adult life she felt worthless because she never received unconditional love. Have you ever felt like this woman? Later, the wife of the best love ever found through her relationship with God. In your search for love, look first to God the source of all love.
