Words of Hope

"When problems come your way, what is your response?" Do you say, "How can I get out of this problem?" or "What can I learn from this problem?" Running from your problems only leads to more problems down the road. God wants to build faith in us.

"By trusting God during troubled times we are empowered to deal with our struggles. Remember, through your problem God may be taking you to greater pastures."

The Difference Between a Salesman and a Funeral Director:

If you have ever been solicited by one of the other funeral homes in the area, you know it's easy to be enticed when a deal sounds too good to be true.

The Dowell and Martin Funeral Home was built on providing funeral services with dignity, professionalism and personal service and we won't be calling you at home to solicit a funeral.

We are going to simply say, we are here if you need us.
