

Summer Youth Intern Program focuses on gardening skills

2013 Summer Youth Interns will have a structured curriculum that focuses on different gardening skills each week. Students will take away the firm basics of running a small farm. Topics will include plant biology, soil biodiversity, propagation, business management, and the current status of small farms in America.

Interns will receive training and hands-on experience in organic community based agriculture and commerce. The scholarship of $500.00 provided will be awarded upon completion of 4 weeks of work and is made possible by a grant from the Grow Appalachia Project.

Schedule:
We will have two 4-week sessions.

The schedule will be Tuesday through Thursday, 3 days per week, 5 hours per day, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The hours and days will be divided between field work and education programs.

Applications are due at Appalachia Science in Public Interest by Friday May 10, 2013

Interviews will be held at the ASPI Office in Mt. Vernon (after 3pm) during the week of May 20, 2013

Any questions may be directed to Suzi Van Etten, Executive Director, 256-0077 or suzi@a-spi.org

It is essential to give more people access to land and to strengthen alternative marketing techniques. The recent explosive growth of farmers markets and community gardens is a step in the right direction. New approaches, such as training, networking and community-owned farms are being created and will have increasing impact in the years to come.

On April 2nd - 5th, twelve students and advisors Gerald Hammons and Sherman Cook attended the Kentucky Skills USA Leadership conference in Louisville. Justin Barnes competed in Job Interview; James Deaton / Industrial Motor Controls; Eric McCracken and Tommy Keating / Welding Competition; Curtis Miller / Job Demonstration; Austin Spoonamore / Talent Show; Rebekah Renner / Poster Design; and Robert Renner, Albert Seals, Adam Young, Savannah Falin, Waylon Mink, Eric McCracken, and James Deaton competed in Opening/Closing Ceremony. Curtis Miller placed 1st in Job Demonstration; Eric McCracken placed 1st in Welding; and Rebekah Renner placed 2nd in Poster Design. Eric McCracken received a full tuition scholarship to Tulsa School of Welding in Jacksonville Florida. Eric and Curtis Miller will have the opportunity to represent Kentucky at the National SkillsUSA Conference in Kansas City in June.

Money Tips for Students

Students should follow budget

One financial goal for students is to have money at the end of every month. These tips from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) may help you set up a budget to track the money you make versus the money you spend.

Knowing how and when you get your money and where you spend it is the foundation of financial planning. You create a budget by estimating how much money you'll make each month and how much you'll spend. It's a great way to avoid running out of money when you need it most.

You must be honest with yourself when completing your budget. If you write down everywhere you spend money over a month's time, you will get a clear picture of your wasteful spending. Once you know where your weaknesses with money are, you can work on correcting them. If you have more expenses than you have income to cover, your income will have to go up, or your expenses will have to go down.

Having a budget in place will also help you save for a vacation, a new car or college. Determine how much you need to set aside to reach your goal, and build that into your budget. Move the money into a savings account so you won't be tempted to spend it before you meet your goal.

The thought of doing a monthly budget scares people, but they aren't difficult. The difficult part is being deliberate with your spending. Once you budget an amount for an expense, stick to that amount. If you spend more in one category, you will have to take that money from another category.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheaa.com.
