Local Chapters of the DAR mark revolutionary graves

The Rockcastle chapter of the DAR, along with the Pulaski and John and Mary Jackson Chapter (of Laurel county) marked the grave of Revolutionary War soldier, John Evans and his daughter Sarah Sally Evans-Bustle on Saturday May 18, 2013 in a ceremony along the banks of the Rockcastle River in northern Laurel County to honor and pay tribute to their memory and his service to this country.

John Evans, from Carolina County, Virginia, fought in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812, most notably in the Battle of Yorktown in 1781 and the Battle of the Thames in 1812. After the Revolutionary War, he was given a land grant of 180 acres in 1804 on what is now known as "Cromer Ridge" where he and others had family farms. Sally wed her father's good friend and fellow soldier, John Bustle (or Bussell). From this union came twelve children, to which all Bustles and their related family in this area may trace their lineage.

The DAR service was presided over by newly-elected regent, Debra Brown, of the Rockcastle chapter, acting Chaplain Tonya Cook of the Rockcastle chapter and descendant, and Louanna Norton-Purcell of the Pulaski chapter, descendant who read the history of John and Sally Evans. Other DAR members on-hand were Norma Eversole, Jean Gentry, and Karen Adams, who was instrumental in the planning of the event.

Those with special recognition are: Donald Hamm, Stanley Cook, Mark, Karen, and Matthew Adams, Don and Louanna Purcell, and Arnold Brown, mostly descendants, for the preparation of the ceremony and upkeep of the cemetery.

The Rockcastle Junior ROTC was on hand to present the colors, and the Keavy DAV Honor Guard #158 played "Taps" and gave a 21-gun salute. There were about 40 to 50 people to attend the service. Some descendants as far away as Texas and Virginia were witness to the tribute.

Following the service, a reception was held at the Baymont Inn at London. It was provided by Mark and Karen Adams, Stanley and Tonya Cook, Don and Louanna Purcell, and Sheila Neal-Leger.
