Just Make Lemonade

By Howard Coop

On a beautiful spring morning, the telephone rang. I was expecting a call, but I was totally unprepared for the disappointing message that call brought. I was informed that I had been transferred to a new situation, which I expected, in a place I had not expected. It was a bad way to begin a new day.

For a period, I had lived and worked in a stressful environment in which an entire community was torn apart by a bad situation in the local school system. I was hoping to be moved to a more pleasant and more peaceful environment, but I was informed that I was to move to a community that had an even greater notoriety. Because of that notoriety, it had received an abundance of national publicity. The county seat of the county to which I was scheduled to move had just been dubbed "Sin city USA" by LIFE magazine. I had no desire to live and work in that kind of environment, but that was where I was assigned to work.

With a heavy heart and many doubts, I spend the next few days preparing for the move. When the time came, the move was made. When we arrived at our new home, we were warmly greeted and graciously received by a wonderful group of caring and supporting people.

For four years, we lived and worked in that pleasant community. After fifty years, I remember the warm friendships that were established, and I look back upon those four years as one of the more pleasant and rewarding experiences of my career.

Life does not always give us what we want. Sometimes it gives us experiences that are unpleasant and faces us with situations we do not like. But it isn't what life gives us; it's how we react to, and what we do with, what life gives us. The old adage I have heard repeated all of my life says it well: "If someone gives you a lemon, just make lemonade."

KU offers tips to beat the heat, save energy

As temperatures continue to rise across the Commonwealth, so can customers' energy use.

Although Kentucky Utilities and Louisville Gas and Electric Company's power system continues to successfully meet customers' increased energy demand, the companies encourage customers to take simple energy efficiency steps to help lower energy consumption during a heat wave.

While record-breaking energy demand isn't forecast this week, KU reminds customers that taking steps to reduce energy use — particularly during the hottest parts of the day — can help the utility better manage peak load on its electric system.

"We always request that customers think about using energy wisely, but this becomes even more important during high energy use periods," said Chris Whelan, Vice President of Communications for LG&E and KU. "Our employees work hard to safely and reliably meet customers' energy needs around the clock, and we ask customers to partner with us in managing overall energy use during the continued heat wave."

As always, it is important for customers on critical life support to maintain a back-up source of energy at all times. Industrial customers should also take high temperatures into account when planning their production schedule.

Customers can help better manage energy demand by taking the following actions:

- Set air conditioners to the highest comfortable setting during the day: 78-80 degrees works for most people. In addition to helping LG&E and KU manage load, raising your air conditioner setting by one degree can save you 4-7 percent on the cooling portion of your energy bill.

- Turn off all unnecessary lights.

- Turn off all unnecessary appliances. If you must run your dishwashers, dryers and washing machines, do so during the evening hours (after 7 p.m.) when energy consumption is lower.

- Use ceiling fans to circulate the cool air. Fans do their jobs by cooling you — not the room, so turn them off when you leave the room. Window fans, ceiling fans or whole-house fans use much less power and are an alternative to air conditioners.

- Cook outdoors on your grill; use a microwave oven or crockpot or prepare cold meals.

The all-time LG&E and KU system peak energy use record occurred on Aug. 4, 2010, at 3 p.m., when customers demanded more than 7,175 megawatts of electricity. (One megawatt can power up to 720 households using an average of 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity each for one month).

DEBBIE'S POTATO SALAD

5 lbs. red skinned potatoes (chopped in large pieces)
3 or 4 stalks of celery (finely chopped)
1 or 2 small bunches scallions (green tops only - finely sliced)
16 oz. container sour cream
1 to 2 cups mayonnaise (depending on how wet you like it)
2 tablespoons whole celery seed
Salt to taste

Bring large pot of water to boil. Leave skin on potatoes, clean and cut off any bad spots, chop in large pieces and boil for 25 minutes. After potatoes cook, cool them either in the refrigerator or under cold water (water is much faster). Drain and place potatoes in very large bowl; slice up any large pieces while combining all ingredients well. Refrigerate for at least one hour then enjoy!

REGINA'S POTATO SALAD

5 medium-sized white potatoes
1 tablespoon dill pickle juice
1 to 2 tablespoons yellow mustard
1/3 to 1/2 cup Miracle Whip®
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickle
1/3 cup chopped onion

1/2 cup chopped dill pickle
2 hard boiled eggs, chopped
Salt
Scrub potatoes and place in large pan. Cover with cold water, add one teaspoon salt and boil in their jacket about 20 minutes or until fork tender. Drain and let cool until you can peel them without burning your hands. In a large bowl mix the dill pickle juice, mustard and Miracle Whip®. Dice the potatoes into the dressing. Add rest of ingredients and stir.

JEFF'S POTATO SALAD
8 medium white potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup white wine vinegar
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup shredded parmesan or cheddar cheese
Wash potatoes. Cook the whole potatoes in boiling salted water until tender but still firm, about 20 minutes. Peel the potatoes while still warm and cut into slices. Place in a large bowl. In another bowl, combine the salt and vinegar. Mix until the salt dissolves. Add the oil and parsley and mix well. Pour over the potatoes and toss gently, but thoroughly, until all the liquid is absorbed. Sprinkle with cheese. Serve warm or room temperature.
